Our Presidents

A message from Grand Worthy President Dave Smith & Grand Madam President Jacque Marble

The last year has been one of the most difficult in the history of our Order. Through the pandemic, we've faced unfathomable challenges and continue to persevere as we work our way back to a sense of normalcy.

In this issue, you'll read about how we're working to make it through COVID, our upcoming International Convention in Phoenix, the first projects in our FOE DRC Bridge to the Cure campaign and more.

Take the time to pass on what you learn to your fellow members, as well as potential membership prospects. Now, more than ever, we need to focus on growing our Order and becoming stronger than ever before!

Fraternally,

Dave & Jacque

Making It Throu

After a difficult year, the F.O.E. is poised to bounce back

REACHING OUR GOALS

MEMBERSHIP NUMBERS

AS OF MARCH 10

-12,369 TO NET GAIN

TOTAL

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF THE SPRING AND REACH OUR GOALS!

In mid-March 2020, the world as we know it changed forever. As the COVID-19 virus began to spread throughout the United States and Canada, state and provincial leaders signed Stay At Home orders and other legislation which closed the doors of many of our Aeries and Auxiliaries and forced the cancellation of numerous FOE events.

Over the course of the last 13 months, we've faced hardships unlike any we've seen before. Many of our State/Provincial Conventions never happened in 2020 and our International Convention was forced to proceed in a significantly reduced capacity.

Along the way we've lost several brothers and sisters from this deadly virus, seen a few Aeries and Auxiliaries close their doors permanently and been forced to alter some procedural elements to safeguard against future similar situations.

gh The Pandemic

stronger than ever

Despite these circumstances, we're beginning to emerge on the other side of the pandemic, with many members already having received one or both doses of the vaccine. More Aeries and Auxiliaries are re-opening by the week, new members are starting to complete the initiation process and the calendar is alive with events to take us through the Spring and into the Summer.

As the world gets back to a sense of normalcy, it's our responsibility as Eagles to pick back up and persevere, our sights set on fundraising and membership goals in an effort to re-strengthen our ranks and build a brighter future.

One of the benefits of the last year has been the increased comfortability with online video conferencing programs like Zoom or Skype. Now that more people are familiar with how to use these services, find ways you can leverage them for training or fundraiser planning.

In the next few months, the Grand Aerie will begin holding online trainings through Zoom to help bring our live classes directly to your homes from the comfortability of your couch.

With many of our friends and neighbors still out of work or facing illness, there is no shortage of assistance we can provide as People Helping People.

Organize a fundraiser for a family in need, provide meals to those out of work, collect food items for local pantries, gather school supplies for students without the funds to properly work from home.

There is so much we can do to help uplift our communities as we climb out of this crisis and I know our fantastic members are up to the challenge.

As many individuals still find themselves reluctant to re-engage in public life, the F.O.E. is in a perfect position to make ourselves available as a controlled environment. Those hesitant to enjoy a night out at a public restaurant may be more likely to have dinner or enjoy a drink at a private fraternal club, where the fear of being exposed is reduced.

Many people are also interested in finding ways to help people in their community. As an organization that gives 100% of what we raise to charity, we're uniquely positioned to appeal to this desire to help others. Make sure you're getting the word out about our Charity Foundation and our commitment to helping those who need it most.

We know the next steps in this recovery won't be easy, but as an organization, it's important we lean on each other for support and assistance. Share your membership ideas with others. If you're succeeding in bringing in new members and raising money, share your methods with others. When we work together, we maximize our success.

We're proud of all of our Eagles for their efforts to get through these hard times and we're excited for our future. Let's buckle down for the rest of this fraternal year and push forward toward our goals!

BRIDGE TO THE CURE
THE FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES

On Nov. 11, the Fraternal Order of Eagles Charity Foundation Board formally approved the first two Bridge to the Cure grants for the FOE Diabetes Research Center at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Julien Sebag and Dr. Calvin Carter were each approved for $325,000 in grants to help translate their research into life saving medications. This seed money will help them conduct intial trials on medications used to combat the effects of diabetes.

An initial award of $125,000 is grants for the first six months of the period, while a second award of $125,000 is awarded six months later, pending satisfactory progress and a favorable review by an external advisory committee, as well as the FOE Charity Foundation Board. A final award of $75,000 is available at the end of the first year pending review.

Dr. Calvin Carter will be working on a non-invasive insulin sensitizer. Nearly 10% of the world's population will have diabetes within the next decade. Many patients face issues due to poor adherence to treatment from side effects and inconvenience. Dr. Carter aims to use electromagnetic fields (EMFs) for the wireless management of type 2 diabetes. This method was proven to normalize blood glucose levels in mice. Bridge grant money will be used for larger animal trials to test potential viability on humans.

Dr. Julien Sebag will be working on development of small molecule enhancers of insulin-stimulated GLUT4 translocation for the treatment of insulin resistance and type 2 diabetes. Dr. Sebag's team used new technology to identify several new insulin sensitizers. The goal of the project is to optimize those molecules into lead compounds for the development of a new treatment for type 2 diabetes and determine their mode of action at the molecular level.

In each step of the process, the FOE Charity Foundation Board will be reviewing progress and approving or denying the release of additional research funds.

In time, if these trials prove successful, the information found will be used to take these drugs to human studies with the hopes of one day putting the drugs on the market to help maintain, combat or potentially even cure diabetes.

Since 2008, our initial $25 donation to fund the FOEDRC has been used to generate an additional $573 million in research grants that have helped lead to these two initial Bridge grants.

Our team continues to work daily to find new ways to combat diabetes and hopes to have additional Bridge projects ready for approval in the near future.

Diabetes RESEARCH CENTER

DIRECTOR'S REPORT
from UI Fraternal Order of Eagles Diabetes Research Center

The exact mechanisms underlying the metabolic effects of gastric bypass or bariatric surgery remain unclear. At the University of Iowa Carver College of Medicine, Mohamad Mokadem, MD, Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine and member of FOEDRC, and his research team have developed an animal model of bariatric surgery, which they are using to understand the underlying mechanisms by which this treatment not only prevents obesity but also reverses diabetes.

Mokadem's lab studied obese animals that underwent bariatric surgery (i.e. weight loss surgery) in order to understand the body's physiologic response to such a treatment. Understanding these responses could lead to the development of similar therapies that are less invasive.

They found that one type of bariatric surgery, namely the Roux-en-Y Gastric bypass, induces its weight loss and other metabolic benefits by altering the activity of a specific nerve (the splanchnic) that connects the gut to the brain to cause direct burning of the fat within the abdomen.

This fat burning increases energy expenditure and is specific for this model of bariatric surgery. The new findings in their study identified a receptor within the intestine (the Endocannabinoid-receptor-1) that seems to be responsible for activating this "splanchnic" nerve signal to cause the metabolic benefits of this surgical procedure.

The main implication of these findings on patient care is the future possibility of manipulating a specific receptor or its downstream effectors or the splanchnic nerve itself, to mimic the long-lasting effects of bariatric surgery.

The more we understand details of how bariatric surgery works the more we will understand the underlying changes that are leading to the obesity epidemic. In addition, this research may lead to less invasive options to manage obesity and to reverse diabetes.

LEADING THE WAY

from Grand Aerie Membership Coordinator Tim Hoyt

Brothers and Sisters,

To say that we are coming off of one of the most challenging years that our organization has seen in our 123 years is an understatement.

As of now, we still have some Aeries and Auxiliaries that have yet to reopen, so if you have, consider yourselves lucky.

However, many are in the process of reopening and things are starting to happen across the jurisdiction that appear to be a step toward returning to normal.

I truly believe the 2021-2022 fraternal year will see us not just meet Net Gain, but reach our Net Gain +2% goal and take a huge step toward our goal of once again reaching a million members.

As Eagles, I'm encouraging all of you to follow these basic principles of being a leader.

First, you must add value to those around you. Teach them about how to hold Membership Drives, about our current member benefits and how the Memorial Foundation protects our families.

Second, be a constant encourager. It's easy for many of our Aeries to fall into believing our goals are too big. Be a force of positivity and uplift your members.

Third, maintain a positive attitude. Don't let negative attitudes take over your Aerie or Auxiliary.

Ask yourselves, are you a thermometer or a thermostat. When you walk into the Aerie home, do you take the temperature of the room or do you SET the temperature of the room.

Be the type of Eagle who sets the temperature. Encourage others, make goals feel reachable, don't let the unknown scare you from taking risks to bring in new members or new donations.

The greater the risks you take, the greater the rewards you will reap. We have so much to offer as on organization but often times we find ourselves too reluctant to take the leap.

After what we've endured the last 12 months, nothing can break us. In 2021-2022, take the leap and watch that confidence bloom into something great.

And like I say, "If It Is To Be, It Is Up To Me." Keep looking up, have a great day, and I'll see you where Eagles fly.

Thank You!

Thinking Incrementally

Seeing Growth Through Achievable Goals

Consistent growth doesn't happen overnight. Often times, our Aeries and Auxiliaries set goals that seem insurmountable or unattainable, which stunts our longterm progress.

The Grand Aerie Membership Department is encouraging all of our Aeries and Auxiliaries to use incremental thinking to set short term goals that build confidence and set our path to long-lasting success.

On the following page, you'll see a few tools you can use to set incremental goals and track progress publicly within your Aerie and Auxiliary.

By placing these goals on your bulletin board or in another prominent place within the Aerie home, you can show your members the progress being made and create positive momentum which leads to the inevitable completion of your total annual goal.

Your goals should be updated and reported on during your meetings and shared as often as possible on social media, in newsletters and more, to make sure your membership is aware of the work you've done and the work still left to do.

Over the next year, the Grand Aerie will be providing posters and other great physical tools to help you in tracking your incremental goals and setting you on a path toward becoming a stronger Aerie or Auxiliary.

As always, the Membership Department is here to help you in any way we can. Just contact us at membership@foe.com or via phone at 614-883-2177 for more information.

» MEMBERSHIP GOALS

Set your weekly Membership Goals and work toward hitting your individual weekly marks. Over time, achieving these short term goals will lead to the completion of your longterm goal.

Each year at the International Convention, registration bags include a 24" x 36" proposers poster which allows you to track who is signing up members and how many they've signed.

» WHAT IT INCLUDES

- 40 lines with twenty spaces each to track the proposers name and how many new or re-enrolled members they've signed during the year.

- Information on the membership awards so members can see what award levels they've reached and what they're eligble for.

On the heels of an incredible run to the final round of last season's NASCAR Xfinity Series Playoffs, Justin Haley returns to the #11 Kaulig Racing Chevrolet to take care of unfinished business in 2021.

Justin will be racing the full season in the Xfinity Series as well as in several NASCAR Cup Series races aboard the #77 Spire Motorsports Chevrolet, including April 25 at Talladega and August 28 at Daytona with the Fraternal Order of Eagles serving as primary sponsor.

With three wins and 22 Top 10s in the Xfinity Series last season to go with his 3rd place overall finish, Haley is one of the series favorites to return to the final race with a shot at this year's title.

Follow along throughout the year as Justin and the Kaulig and Spire teams look to take the Fraternal Order of Eagles back to victory lane.

Covid-pending, Justin is scheduled to attend the 2021 International Convention in Phoenix to meet with members and sign autographs.

Operation Eagle 2020

Supporting our troops through care packages

Thanks to the kindness and generosity of our Aeries and Auxiliaries, the 2020 Operation Eagle campaign raised $5,875 and prepared care packages for Stephen Laxamana. Stephen was nominated by his grandmother of Prineville #2555 and has told her that he plans on joining the Eagles once his time of service has ended.

Stephen received an iPad mini, Nintndo Switch with games and several boxes of food, clothing items, toiletries, games, magazines, books, movies and more to help entertain his company during deployment.

All packages were received prior to the holidays and all of our recipients offer their gratitude to Eagles everywhere for their generous gifts.

Donations for Operation Eagle are accepted year-round at F.O.E. Operation Eagle, 1623 Gateway Circle South, Grove City, OH 43123.

WE ARE PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE

Financials A look into the fiscal year

- The Grand Aerie and local Aerie and Auxiliary's 501(c)8 status precluded them from qualifying for the Paycheck Protection Program. Due to this as well as being adversely affected by federal and state restrictions, the Grand Aerie paid $280,000 in dues reminders expenses to help alleviate the financial burden.
- The economic contraction in 2020 is expected to negatively affect contributions over the next fiscal year. From March to May 2020, contributions for the FOE Charity Foundation, the Memorial Foundation, and Eagle Village were 50% less from the year prior.
- Membership is the key to our organization as approximately 70% of the revenue received in the Grand Aerie comes from Per-Capita Tax. The organization was on pace for a net gain in membership for the second year in a row until the COVID-19 pandemic. We must fund the necessary investment in marketing, programs and training to make last year the anomaly and not the trend.
- The Grand Aerie continues to operate within the budget approved by the delegation. The one-time per year Per-Capita Tax will be calculated in May 2021 at $12.00.
- The Grand Aerie has made positive financial strides. All outstanding loans have been paid off except for the $12,000,000 loan to terminate the Pension Fund. The goal is to retire the debt in the next two years, but this is dependent on the COVID-19 pandemic.
